I guess my big news nowadays is the VL1 coming out which is based squarely on my work before going to NeXT. It's been written up in Business Week, Keyboard ("The Next Big Thing"), Electronic Musician, and Wired, as I recall; I also have interviews coming up with the Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, and Billboard; finally, I was interviewed for a 10-minute spot on "All Things Considered" on NPR. It's amazing to me how this stuff gets around on the national level. Apparently it's a kind of chain reaction - they all read each other, so once you get into one, all the others call you up. I have copies of all the various articles if you or she wants to look for quotable quotes for the newsletter.

Cheers,
Julius

I have received a request (with very short notice) from Melinda McGee requesting items on CCRMA to be included in the upcoming Music Department Newsletter. If you have anything newsworthy - awards, honors, special projects, performances, etc. Please let me know. She wants the CCRMA information back by the 11th of April!!

Thanks,

Patte
