Planning Courses:

- Generates a plan tailored to these selections satisfying prerequisite requirements, with opportunities to reprioritize and modify the plan within the interface as desired.
- Lets students pick out majors, tracks, and individual courses they would like to take within a timeline specified, with options to rank some courses above others

If a plan as specified cannot be created, then the student can look at where MapCourses found issues in creating the plan, fix them, and rerun the tool.

Once a student is done, they can save the plan and let the tool ping them right before class registration opens with the course listing they picked for the upcoming term
