

Problem

I get so many emails that sometimes don't see the important ones and I miss out on some cool opportunities.

A seemingly endless amount of emails...

Important ones get overlooked

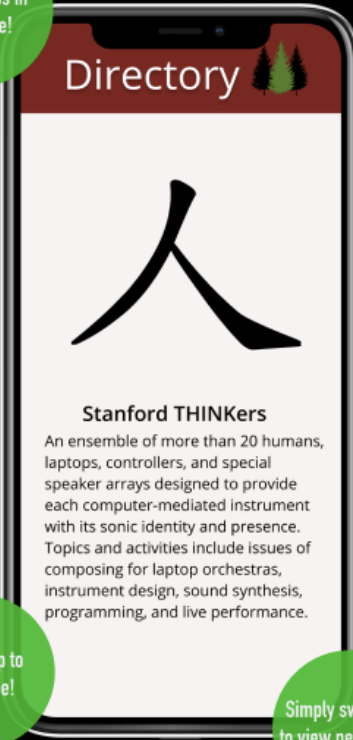

Amazing events and opportunities are missed

EudaimonicTree

Eudaimonic is a term meaning human flourishing. As Stanford trees, we want everyone to grow to reach their fullest potential. This starts with allowing people to connect to each other in a eudaimonic way.

All the clubs in one place!

Double tap to subscribe!

Simply swipe left to view new clubs!

DIRECTORY
Feeling overwhelmed at all those activities fairs? Don't know which groups are out there or which ones to join? The directory makes it easy for you to view and join the clubs of your Stanford dreams.

All your would-be emailing-lists in one place

Press the plus to add a group from the directory

Swipe left to unsubscribe from a list

Groups
Too many groups on your emailing lists? Trying to unsubscribe but its too much effort? Groups makes it easy for you to manage each group and to unsubscribe and subscribe when necessary.

Swipe to see relevant events. Past events automatically deleted

Stay organized with monthly calendars and meeting schedules

Build community with personal coffee chats and other meetings

NEWS
Really hard to keep up with all those email notifications? Want to build intergroup community? The news features allows for you to see relevant events going on in addition to other features such as coffee chats and a calendar.