

Digital Music Under The Stars

CCRMA Concert Series

CCRMA is a unique center dedicated to research and contemporary musical creation within Stanford University. A link between industry and the arts, it incorporates all aspects of musical expression in control, analysis and synthesis while encouraging all manifestations of new music.

For more than 30 years CCRMA has hosted in their concert series all pioneers of electronic music, live established and emerging new composers and performers.

CCRMA mailing-list

To subscribe to the CCRMA mailing-list use the online subscription form or send an email to: events@ccrma.stanford.edu with a blank message body and 'SUBSCRIBE' in the subject header.

Concert Halls

While the CCRMA primary facility, The Knoll, is undergoing major renovations, the 2004-2005 CCRMA concert series will make use of other venues both on and off-campus.

Concert Coordinator

Chryssie Nanou

For More Information

Please visit the CCRMA website at <http://ccrma.stanford.edu> for more information regarding the Stanford University CCRMA.

Information regarding the CCRMA Concert Series is available online at <http://ccrma.stanford.edu/concerts/>

Thursday, July 21, 2005

5:00 pm live bands
8:25 pm – sunset –
8:30 pm evening concert

Frost Amphitheater

Stanford University
Corner of Galvez St. and Campus Drive
Stanford, CA 94305

*Cameras and other recording equipment are prohibited.
Please ensure that your pager, cellular phone, and watch alarm are turned off.*